GRAND COUNCIL

Y. M. I., Kentucky Jurisdiction, Is to Be Held in This City.

Local Members Have Provided Entertainment For Visiting Delegates.

Celebration of High Mass Will Precede the Business Sessions.

THE OFFICERS TO BE ELECTED

The fifth Grand Council, Young Men's Institute, Kentucky Jurisdiction, will be held in this city Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The business sessions will be held at Trinity Hall, 718 East Gray street. Many of the delegates and visitors are expected to arrive in the city this afternoon or tonight. For these receptions will be held tomorrow at the various local Y. M. I. club houses, viz., Trinity, No. 230, 718 East Gray street; Satoli, No. 193, 716 Second street; Mackin, No. 205, 530 Twenty-sixth street. The object of this great and growing order, the Young Men's Institute, is as its motto states, "Pro Deo, Pro Patria." To inculcate into the young Catholic men of America a love for God and for country. This order is doing a great work in keeping its young men together and inculcating principles of religion and patriotism. Every year the Grand Council made up of delegates from the various sub-ordinate councils in Kentucky, meets to revise laws and to redress grievances if there be any, and on such occasions the people wherever the Grand Council is held provide amusements of a modest nature for the visiting delegates.

This year the Grand Council meets in Louisville and the local Grand officers and delegates from the various councils have striven to arrange a programme that will delight the visitors. The joint committee is made up as follows: Resident Grand Officers—Rev. J. A. O'Grady, Grand Chaplain; Harry R. Swann, Jr., Chairman Board of Directors; John J. Sullivan, Grand Director; George J. Lautz, Grand Secretary and Treasurer; W. N. Gast, Grand Marshal, and the following delegates representing the local councils: Satoli—W. J. Q'Sullivan, John J. Fahey and William A. Perry. Mackin—F. Murphy, B. Sands and Hugh Higgins. Trinity—John J. Sullivan, Jr., Joseph Piazza and John M. Hennessy.

As before stated open house will be kept for the visiting delegates on Sunday. On Monday the Grand officers, delegates and members will assemble at the Willard Hotel at 8:30 o'clock and proceed to St. Mary's church, on Payne street, where Rev. Father J. A. O'Grady will celebrate high mass at 9 o'clock. After mass the members of the Grand Council will proceed to Trinity Hall, on Gray street, where the first business session will be held. After a brief recess for luncheon an afternoon session will be held. At 8 o'clock in the evening the visitors will be given a moonlight excursion on the Ohio river. On Tuesday morning and afternoon business sessions will be held again. During the afternoon the new officers of the Grand Council for the ensuing year will be elected. Tuesday night the newly elected officers will be given a banquet at the Willard Hotel.

If any business has been left unfinished it will be finished on Wednesday morning. During the stay of the visitors the Willard Hotel will be headquarters for the Y. M. I. delegates. It is expected that in addition to the forty regular delegates at least 100 visitors will be in attendance. Among the visitors will be his Grace Archbishop Elder, of Cincinnati, Supreme Chaplain; James M. O'Brien, Lexington, Grand Director; Joseph H. Cassidy, Bellevue, Ky., delegate Council 206; John J. Luby, Lexington, Grand President; Thomas D. Murray, Lexington, Past Grand President; Rev. Father Ryan, Winchester, Ky.,

John J. Barry, New Haven, Grand Director; W. B. Hoffman, Memphis, Grand Director; W. J. Hamilton, St. Louis, Grand Director; William Fitzgerald, St. Louis, Grand Director; H. W. Rives, Lebanon, Past Grand President; W. B. O'Connell, Mt. Sterling, Past Grand President; James J. Maher, Newport, Past Grand President; William Oberman, Frankfort, First Vice President; Edward White, Ashland, Second Vice President.

The programme for the banquet Tuesday night has been arranged as follows: Address of welcome..... Frank Murphy Invocation..... Rev. W. B. Ryan Toastmaster..... Harry R. Swann Pro Deo..... Rev. J. A. O'Grady Our Supreme Council..... S. J. Boldrick Pro Patria..... James B. Kelly Chorus..... Old Kentucky Home Our Grand Council..... John J. Luby Fraternities..... Rev. I. M. Ahmann The Press..... John J. Barry Impromptu talks.

GREAT PROGRESS

Is Being Made in the Arrangements for the Bishop's Jubilee.

The arrangements for the golden jubilee celebration of Right Rev. Bishop McCloskey are steadily progressing. The priests held another meeting during the week and appointed various committees. Rev. Father White has fallen heir to a triple burden, inasmuch as he has been appointed Chairman of three committees, on invitation, visitation and banquet. But Father White likes work. The priests have arranged to give the Bishop a banquet, reception and purse.

Next Wednesday evening the laymen of the various parishes in the diocese will meet at St. Francis' Hall to make arrangements for the part they are to play in the jubilee. Each parish of the thirty-one local Catholic churches will send two delegates to this meeting. The jubilee celebration will be held October 7 instead of October 6, as originally planned.

TOOK PERPETUAL VOWS.

James Cassin a Brother of the Holy Cross Order.

Among the welcome visitors in Louisville this week was James Cassin, who two years ago entered Notre Dame College at Notre Dame, Ind., for the purpose of joining the Brotherhood of the Holy Cross, an American religious order of the Catholic church whose members are principally engaged in teaching. He has just finished preparation for his new life and taken the perpetual vows of the order, and will be known henceforth as Brother Celestine.

James Cassin was for years one of the best known young Catholic men of Louisville, and made a splendid record as Superintendent of the registry division of the local postoffice, leaving the city's detective force to accept that responsible position. He is a native of this town and brother of Capt. Mike Cassin, of the No. 3 hook and ladder company, with whom he is stopping. Our Catholic citizens always point with pride to his many achievements and the enviable reputation he earned by persistent devotion to church and duty. He is still the same unpretentious "Jim," who meets and greets his old friends with a warm hand and happy smile. Brother Celestine will remain here for several weeks.

FATHER HICKEY DEAD.

Spent More Than Thirty-Five Years in the Covington Diocese.

A telegram from Maysville announced the death of the Rev. Father John Hickey, which took place in Mason county last Monday night. Father Hickey had been a priest of the Covington diocese during the past thirty-five years and was dearly loved by both priests and people. He left an estate valued at about $30,000 in land and money to Bishop Maes, of Covington. He was eighty years of age and had been more than fifty years in the ministry.

ALL IS READY

For the Irish Field Day Sports at Fern Grove Tomorrow.

Crowds From All Parts of the City Will Fill the Various Boats.

Plenty of Games For the Old As Well As the Young People.

PRIZES WILL BE VERY HANDSOME

Fern Grove, Ind., will be the Mecca for the majority of Irish-Americans in and about the Falls Cities tomorrow. It has been set apart by the Ancient Order of Hibernians as Irish field day and all manner of athletic games indulged in in Ireland will be worthily exemplified in this, the land of freedom. The committee on arrangements appointed by the Ancient Order of Hibernians have engaged the steamboats Sunshine and Columbia to carry the crowds that will attend. The boats will each make two trips from the foot of First street, one in the morning and one in the afternoon. The first boat will leave at 9 o'clock and the second at 9:30 o'clock. In the afternoon the boats will leave at 1 and 1:30 o'clock. This will give everybody ample time to attend mass before starting for the day's sport. The trip up the river is a treat in itself, a ride of less than two hours and between hillsides covered with luxuriant trees, and then there is no prettier spot around Louisville than the Fern Grove picnic grounds, which are equipped with all manner of conveniences. It is safe to say that no larger crowd ever attended Fern Grove than will witness the Irish field day sports tomorrow.

President Dolan of Division 1, with his colleagues Newton G. Rogers, Mike Tynan, Peter J. Chack and John Mulloy, will bring all the Irish-Americans from the center of the city. President William T. Meehan of Division 2 and his brother officers, Con Ford, John J. Sullivan, John T. Keane and Owen Keirn, will bring all the Irish-Americans from the Hill, the Highlands and the southeastern part of the city. From Portland avenue and the entire West End will come a big delegation, headed by President Lawrence J. Mackey of Division 3 and his fellow officers, Michael Hoban, P. T. Sullivan, William E. Burns and George J. Butler. Last but by no means least will come the Limerick cohorts, headed by President John Hennessy and his colleagues, Thomas Callahan, Joe P. McGinn, Dave Reilly and Harry Brady.

New Albany and Jeffersonville will also send their quota, under the leadership of their respective officers. But not only will the A. O. H. and their families be represented, but every Irish organization in the city will send representatives, either to take part in the sports or to witness them. There will be natives of Ulster, Munster, Leinster and Connaught, men from Dublin across to Kerry and from Donegal to Cork. Interest in the field day sports grows apace and there will be numerous entries in each event. No liquor will be allowed either on the boat or on the grounds, but there will be plenty of pipes and tobacco to be had for the asking and numerous decks of cards will be distributed for such of the old or young people as care to go off under the shade of the trees and indulge in the good old Irish game of forty-five.

Sally's band will be at the park to furnish dance music all day. Besides there will be bands on each boat every trip going and coming. The boats will leave on the return trips at 5, 6, 7 and 8 o'clock p. m. The County Board A. O. H. met Tuesday night, with President Tom Keenan in the chair. Every division was represented and every committee reported progress. President Hennessy of Division 4 said that the youths and young men of Limerick were practicing every evening on the commons at running, jumping, putting the shot, base ball, etc. Representatives from other divisions reported that like preparations were being made in their respective parts of town. One committee reported that ample police protection would be on hand to preserve order.

The committee on sports reported that Mike Walsh, the veteran League umpire and manager, had consented to umpire the game of base ball, while Major Ed Hughes has consented to act as one of the judges of the field sports. Kerwin and Flaherty, members of the Louisville ball club and both good Irish-Americans, have also promised to attend the gathering. Prizes to winners of the various contests have been donated by Levy Bros., Pat Bannon, Sid Raffo, Pat Nelligan, Tom Keenan, Cooney & Kennedy, George J. Butler, Trumbo Furniture Company, W. F. Mayer & Co., Stieger & Borders, H. F. Kersting, the Kentucky Irish American and a host of others. Among these prizes will be a silk umbrella, rocking chairs, cigars, hats, a load of coal, a silver cup, etc. All in all, the day promises to be a great one for the Irish-Americans of Louisville and vicinity.

After the ball game the other field day events will begin. They will be as follows: One hundred yards dash, handicap.

Two hundred yards dash, handicap. Hop, step and jump, handicap. Standing broad jump, handicap. Running broad jump, handicap. Running high jump, handicap. Putting sixteen-pound shot, handicap. Throwing twelve-pound hammer, handicap. Potato race. Boys' race, under fourteen years. Girls' race, under fourteen years. Three-legged race. The prizes for the various contests will not be made known until after the close of the entries.

ENGLISH AND SPANISH

Are Requirements Necessary for Apostolic Delegate to Manila.

Rome dispatches of the past week say that the Vatican's idea of appointing Monsignor Guidi, of the office of Cardinal Rampolla, the Papal Secretary of State, to be Apostolic Delegate at Manila has been abandoned because he does not know sufficient English, and that he will be sent as Apostolic Delegate to India instead.

As to Monsignor Conaty, rector of the Catholic University at Washington, whose possible appointment as Apostolic Delegate to Manila has been rumored, the Vatican denies that his name has ever been considered in connection with the Manila post, where it is pointed out the conditions demand a thorough man of business, speaking fluently English and Spanish, of unquestioned impartiality and persona grata at Washington.

It seems probable now that Monsignor Merry del Val, who was to have represented the Pope at King Edward's postponed coronation, will be appointed Papal Nuncio at Vienna, while Monsignor Falconio, the Apostolic Delegate in Canada, may ultimately be transferred from Canada to Washington.

LALLY'S GOOD FORTUNE

Popular Louisville Boy Wins Lovely Ohio Girl For His Bride.

John J. Lally's host of Louisville friends will be agreeably surprised with the news that he will in the near future return to his home in this city with a lovely life partner in the person of the handsome and accomplished daughter of one of the wealthiest merchants of Central Ohio, residing not more than a hundred miles from Zanesville.

Young Lally is the Western representative of the Paracamp Company of this city, and has just arrived home from a most successful business trip to the principal cities of the Northwest. He will remain here for ten days, after which he leaves for the East to look after the interests of his company. Few young men of Louisville have been as successful on the road as Mr. Lally. None are more rejoiced over his good fortune than his father, Pat Lally, the genial and accommodating Inspector for the Louisville City Railway Company. To John we take this occasion to extend our congratulations.

GENERAL SESSION.

Passionist Fathers From All Quarters Assemble at Pittsburg.

Last Monday there assembled at Pittsburg a number of noted members of the Order of Passionist Fathers from all parts of the country for the purpose of holding their general meeting. The sessions were held in the monastery on the South Side, with Right Rev. General Consultor Monsignor John Baptiste Bandinelli, C. P., presiding over the proceedings. The election of provincials and rectors took place Thursday, but the names have not yet been given out. Among the members of the order present were Rev. Fathers Stephen, Provincial, Felix, of Louisville; Markus, Fidelis and Alphonsus, of West Hoboken; Albert, of Dunkirk; Joseph, of Baltimore; George, of Cincinnati; Robert, of St. Louis, and Boniface, of St. Paul, Kas.

HIS HOLINESS

Sends a Token of Esteem to President Theodore Roosevelt.

An Autograph Letter Conveys Regard For Our Chief Executive.

One of the Finest Works of Art Ever Brought to Shores of America.

DELIVERED BY BISHOP O'GORMAN

President Roosevelt has received from the hands of the Right Rev. Bishop O'Gorman, of Sioux Falls, S. D., an autograph letter from Pope Leo XIII. and a beautiful mosaic picture of the Vatican gardens, a token of friendship from His Holiness to the Chief Executive of this country. Bishop O'Gorman is a member of the Taft Commission sent by the United States to negotiate for the withdrawal of the friars from the Philippines.

Bishop O'Gorman reached Oyster Bay late Saturday afternoon and was driven at once to President Roosevelt's home, Sagamore Hill. He dined with the President and then returned to New York City.

The letter from His Holiness, Leo XIII., was written in French, of which the following is a translation:

"MR. PRESIDENT: I am pleased with the congratulations which you addressed to me in your letter of May 9, and since, in addition to the good wishes also expressed through the Government of the Philippines, you have added a present of your own works, I am doubly grateful.

"You, Mr. President, will surely remember the many expressions of good will which I have uttered concerning the United States. Nothing could be to me more agreeable than to assure you of my continued good wishes, especially at the moment when the negotiations of Gov. Taft, having ended in a satisfactory manner for both sides, have come to strengthen the excellent understanding between the Church and the United States authorities.

"As a token of my satisfaction I have charged Mgr. O'Gorman to bring you a mosaic picture from the workshop of the Vatican, representing our gardens. May I ask you to keep it as a souvenir and an expression of my friendly regard?

"LEO XIII.
The mosaic is a great work of art, and years must have been spent in its completion. It is several feet square and delicately colored. It represents the venerable Leo XIII. seated in the Vatican gardens beneath the shade of a gigantic tree. The white robes of the Holy Father, the foliage of the trees and the attending Cardinals in robes of state are faithfully reproduced.

Suffice it to say that this mosaic is one of the greatest works of art ever brought to America, and as such will be treasured by President Roosevelt.

PRICE AND WINN.

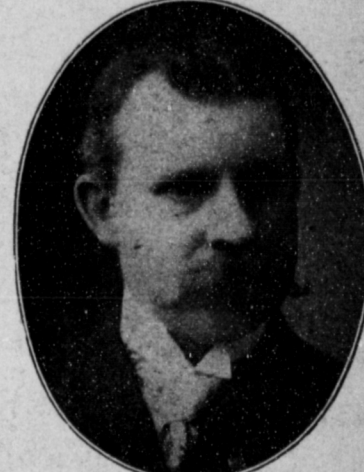

Popular Citizens Tipped as Officials of the Jockey Club.

There is a rumor to the effect that the Louisville Jockey Club is to be reorganized with Charles F. Price as President and Matt Winn as Secretary. The rumor has been denied but it will not down. Mr. Price was for many years well and favorably known as a newspaper man, but forsook the pencil and shears for the more lucrative employment of the turf. Matt Winn is a well known and popular Irish-American and a leading merchant tailor. Both these gentlemen would give the Jockey Club a great boom.

LOUISVILLE, KY. SATURDAY, AUGUST 23, 1902.

WELCOME, Y. M. I.

Welcome, officers and delegates of the Grand Council, Y. M. I. In the name of every public spirited citizen of Louisville we bid you welcome. And why not? You come as members of an order whose motto is "Pro Deo, Pro Patria"—For God and for Country. Higher than that no man can aspire and no body of men, young or old, can fail if they keep that motto steadily in mind. No knight ever went forth with a greater device on his shield. God and country ought to be the end and aim of every living man. Once more the Kentucky Irish American in the good old Celtic tongue bids you "Cead mille failthe."

FEDERATION CRITICS.

The Chicago convention of the Federation of Catholic Societies has brought that organization into pretty general discussion by the Catholic and the so-called Catholic press—unfortunately it must be admitted we have the latter. That the action of the convention, as well as its inaction, should be criticized is proper, and even beneficial, for it is criticism in a fair spirit that shortcomings are pointed out and remedied, new ideas developed and success attained. Too much seems to have been expected of the convention by most of its critics. Its as yet unorganized state, indefinite and misunderstood purposes, lack of facilities, incomplete information, and other defects and obstacles of newly forming organizations composed of divers classes, nationalities, associations, intended to represent the many sections of this vast country, seem to be overlooked. It was expected to take up, discuss and point out a remedy for varied grievances, real or imaginary, of all Catholics in this country; to define and declare the Catholic position on all public questions. Because it did not it is condemned by some as a failure, by others as imbecile. What it did is disappointing to such. But this class of critics at least are respectful, hopeful and offer suggestions and advice, most of which are wholly beyond the sphere and powers of the Federation, and to attempt which would be to encroach upon the prerogatives and jurisdiction of the hierarchy and even the Papacy. They are, however, entitled to their opinions, which should be respected and considered in the spirit of courtesy and good intent.

Those who ridicule and condemn the Federation for what it did as well as did not; who misrepresent its purposes, asperse the motives of its promoters, soon develop their true character as well as motive in so doing, and they show they are neither Catholic in character nor are their motives for the Catholic good. Their slogan is that the Federation is only a political organization under a Catholic guise; that its approval or disapproval, or its failure to approve or disapprove the policy or acts of the Government, or of certain laws and practices, alleged or real, were due to political partiality or political animus. And before they conclude we find they regard and speak of the Government, public officials, priests, hierarchy and the Papacy in the same strain. Indeed every one who does not coincide with them, from the Pope down to the lay delegate of the Federation convention, is prompted by sinister political motives or deluded by political schemes for the furtherance of political ends instead of Catholic interests, remedying of Catholic grievances or the protection of Catholic rights. Thus the Federation is controlled by politicians; Archbishop Ireland is a "priest-politician;" the Bishops and priests who are promoting the Federation are "smaller priest-politicians," who "dominate the gathering of blind believers" to indorse and carry out the schemes of the administration, which has fooled the Pope and Cardinals into an agreement for despoiling the Church and proselyting the Catholics in the Philippines. Of course the statements of the Papacy, hierarchy, Government officials and authorities on these subjects and their status are ignored, tabooed. The non-Catholic, even anti-Catholic reports, of the news agencies, assertions of politicians and partisan press, are the bases upon which this position is assumed, and a tirade of ridicule, abuse and denunciation heaped upon everything and everybody Catholic and American, especially those in position whose right and duty it is to know the truth and speak with authority.

These are the so-called Catholic press. They are not only wholly unreliable on Catholic matters, but are a source of mischief and detriment to the Catholic church and people. Catholic papers should be Catholic first and in all things. In common with all citizens, it is proper that they should have political preferences and advocate them, but never at variance with Catholic truth, duty and right. Not a few of them, however, are more partisan than Catholic, subverting Catholicity—which seems but a cloak—disregarding all respect for Church or other authority, laying aside all but pretensions of truth and decency, they make politics and any political scheme their chief and first object. As one usually measures all by his own standard, naturally these saintly non-politicians condemn the Federation, priests, hierarchy and the Pope as politicians and tools of politicians.

The Federation will survive and grow despite such critics. It is deserving of credit for what it did at the convention, and proved its wise discretion and that it realized its true position by not doing most of what it is condemned for not doing; for not attempting to encroach beyond its sphere; for not indulging in groundless approval or insane denunciation of measures, parties and persons on no better authority than the ranting of political demagogues and the at least questionable press reports. The worst charge against them—that they heeded the Pope and hierarchy—is certainly commendable to them as Catholics. Let them adhere to that line as the only true and safe course.

M. COMBES' CLIMAX.

M. Combes, of whom no one ever heard till by a factional upheaval he became Premier of France, and as such is showing his authority by closing all the schools, colleges, convents, hospitals and asylums in accordance with his interpretation of the associations law, is aggravated by the firm though peaceful protests and resentment of the people. He has promptly used the military, issued arbitrary orders, resorted to rudeness, if not violence, but without provoking violent resistance because of the advice and influence of the Catholic leaders, clerical and lay, who urge the people only to protest. These thousands of protests from every part of France are pouring in upon the Council of State, and the failure to close the schools in the mountain districts, where the ruralists, though refraining from violence, seem to have baffled the authorities, has angered M. Combes to a degree which reveals his small caliber as well as his disregard for the popular right of protest, the foundation of government based on liberty, which he professes to uphold and administer. Instead of treating those protests with respect, giving them consideration, defending and proving the legality of his course, he assails the motives, questions the patriotism and denounces as "Royalists" and enemies of the republic the authors and abettors of these protests. The resistance to the law is instigated and urged by Royalist conspirators seeking the overthrow of the republic and the destruction of liberty!

Such a statement from one holding so exalted a position proves him only a political henchman, incapable of leading, advising or defending his cause; only to meet criticism and protest with vituperation and sinister charges against all who differ with him, as under the law they have a right to do, which he practically refuses, and a right to be heard, which he fails to accord. His utterance is an unjust accusation of treason, has excited ridicule, which is rendered more clear by the manly and dignified reply of the Bishops, Government officials and prominent personages in the districts whose people he assails.

If M. Combes attempts to carry to a conclusion his charges—that all opponents to the associations law are Royalist conspirators and enemies of the Government, and to arrest and proceed against them as such, he will have reached the point where will soon be revealed the real purpose and the extreme to which the persecution is to be carried. The universal popular protest, the discontent of the army at being used to arrest nuns and priests, and the disapproval of Government officials may cause a halt.

Premier Combes has reached the point where he must go on or turn back.

Newspaper reports of disorders and affrays sometimes do injustice to innocent parties. During the past ten days there were two shooting scrapes between police and those they were seeking to arrest. In both the names of Irish saloon-keepers were used in a way to give the impression that the disorder was in connection with their places or they were individually mixed up with the fights. In both these cases this was an injustice, the troubles neither starting nor occurring in the saloons, nor among their patrons, and the proprietors neither knew of nor had anything whatever to do with them or the parties involved. The only ground for the inference is that the saloons are in the vicinity where the rows took place. A little care by reporters in wording their accounts of such affairs will avoid such undesired reflections.

Germany's anti-borax law, intended to exclude American cured meats, is likely to kick at the breech, as it is taken for granted that the United States will retaliate, and now that a chemist has reported that German delicatessen meats and fruits imported into this country also contain borax, German manufacturers of these goods are apprehensive lest when the German law goes into force the United States ports will be closed against German meats and fruits, and they will lose the American market, which takes the larger proportion of their exports. It is not unlikely that Germany will again recognize the importance of not interfering with Uncle Sam's hogs, and modify the anti-borax law, just as she did the anti-trichina law some years ago.

British trade commissioners report another trouble in South Africa. Industries, particularly in the mines, are not reviving because of a scarcity of labor. Workingmen are taking other employment with German and American firms that have contracts, or leaving the country, and the Kaffirs refuse to work as heretofore, because wages are too low in the Transvaal and Orange Free State. They estimate that there is work for 200,000 laborers, but the British companies insist that they can not pay more wages, and the outlook for resumption of their industries is not bright.

The Boer Generals Botha, Delarey and DeWet were cordially received in England, and would have been feasted and lionized, but they evaded such flattery and went to Holland as private individuals to visit President Kruger. They will come to the United States, and all England seems wondering why. Their reception and utterances in this country will probably be carefully noted by English correspondents. It is not likely they will use any seditious language, but they will be greeted in a way to leave no doubt of the esteem in which they and their gallant people are held by Americans.

"A Married Nun" is the heading of an article, doubtless intended to be sensational, going the rounds of the daily press. There is nothing sensational about it, nor is it at all remarkable, though such cases are not frequent. The nun left her order in the proper way, with the approval of her superiors and the church authorities. Subsequently she married in accordance with the rites of the church, and is living with her husband. That's all there is in it.

The printers are as generous as outspoken. Their international convention adopted resolutions of sympathy and aid to the anthracite miners. President Mitchell responded with thanks, stating the miners would win if properly supported. Without further ado the printers unanimously ordered $2,000 sent to the miners' relief fund. That's the kind of sympathy that counts.

The corn fields of the United States, which will yield this year 2,500,000,000 bushels, equal in area Great Britain, Belgium and Holland.

RECENT DEATHS.

The funeral of Anna May, the eight-year-old daughter of Elizabeth and the late James Fitzpatrick, took place Monday afternoon from the family residence, 1648 Tyler avenue. Sincere sympathy is felt for the sadly bereaved mother in this her second great loss.

Thomas J. Moore, one of the most popular policemen in the West End, died at his mother's residence at 12:40 o'clock Thursday morning. He had been ill of pneumonia for a few days. He was a brother-in-law of Mike Hickey. The funeral takes place from St. John's church at 9 o'clock this morning, the interment in St. John's cemetery.

The funeral of Adam Michaels, an aged and highly respected resident of the West End and a staunch member of St. Anthony's church, took place Monday morning with solemn high mass of requiem. Deceased was a prosperous cooper, and is survived by sons, who were associated in the business with him. His death is deplored by a wide circle of acquaintances.

Mrs. Alice Nolan, wife of Lloyd E. Nolan, died at her home, 1537 State street, last Monday. The deceased was a kind hearted, Christian lady, who was highly esteemed by all for her numerous good qualities. She was forty-one years old, and the surviving members of her family have the sympathy of the community. The funeral was held Wednesday morning from the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, Rev. Father O'Sullivan conducting the solemn obsequies.

The many friends of Mrs. Mary Corbett, of 613 Laurel street, were grieved to hear of the sudden and untimely death of her son, Patrick Corbet. The young man, who was a railroad employe, was killed in an accident at Chicago last Sunday. The remains were brought here for burial. The funeral took place from the residence of his mother last Thursday morning. A requiem mass was celebrated over the remains at St. John's church and the interment was in St. Louis cemetery.

LAWN FETE.

One of the events of pleasure eagerly looked for is the Spring Bank Club lawn fete at the Apple Orchard, Thirty-eighth and Greenwood avenue, this side River-view Park, next Wednesday and Thursday evenings. The ladies and gentlemen patrons are among our best known and most liberal and public spirited citizens, and all who attend are assured an evening of real enjoyment. The proceeds will be used for works of charity, and with pleasant weather large crowds are expected. The principal prizes are a Jersey cow and calf, a handsome pony, a sheep, hog and a fancy quilt. Take River-view cars.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

The following ode was composed and dedicated to the Knights of Columbus by Rev. William McDermott, Chaplain of Columbus Council, and sung for the first time at the annual reunion last week of the Knights of the Middle West at Put-In-Bay:

Arise, O bold Columbus Knights, and swell the loud refrain,
And let our patron's fame resound o'er the country's broad domain.
With joyful hearts we hail the cross which once Columbus bore,
And watch our hero's saving faith now shine from shore to shore.

In friendship's purest, noblest bond we reach from sea to sea,
From gulf to lake our order takes the lead in charity.
With love for all in knighthood's ranks, our brothers far and near,
In union's might we stand for right, for God and country dear.

O privileged sons whom fortune claimed Columbus Knights to be!
The model band of all our land, the nation of the free;
And may the one who guided safe Columbus' bark to shore,
Forever guide our order in His service more and more.

Miss Mary Clare and Mrs. J. Muir have returned from an extended visit at Owensboro, where they were the guests of Mrs. J. Carroll.

John Martel, of New Albany, for the past two years with the Kentucky Irish American, is enjoying a week's vacation at St. Joseph, Ind.

Miss Sophie Wathen, Miss Mary Hill and Miss Jenkins, of Lebanon, accompanied Mr. Nace Wathen to Estill Springs this week.

The many friends of John T. Garaghty, the well known coal man, will regret the news that he is quite ill at his residence, 510 East Broadway.

Misses Mary and Hattie Higgins are home again after a delightful sojourn at White Mills, where they were the guests of Mrs. Dillingham.

Mrs. John P. Flynn and children, after spending ten days with relatives and friends at Owensboro, are again at their home in New Albany.

Charles McCann, wife and children, Ruth and Paul, of Springfield, Mo., arrived in Jeffersonville on Monday to visit Mrs. M. V. McCann.

Miss Anna Groat, of Jeffersonville, was one of a party of young ladies from the Falls Cities who spent the past week at White Sulphur Springs.

Miss Nell Fairleigh, after spending the summer with Mrs. John Watts Kearney in Maine and Mrs. John White in Boston, has returned home.

Miss Ada McCann, the accomplished and charming daughter of Judge John McCann, will leave next week to visit friends at Springfield for a month.

Mrs. Arthur Musselman and her two children and her sister, Mrs. Kate Newman, have gone to Stine's station to spend the remainder of the summer.

Miss Anna Kelly was the hostess at a most enjoyable ping pong party given in honor of Miss Margie Henderson, of St. Louis, who is the guest of Miss Mayne Toner.

Mrs. Louisa Carraro and her two pretty daughters, Misses Amelia and Louisa, and Charles Carraro, left Thursday to spend two weeks with Louis Carraro at Cincinnati.

Mrs. Val Leister and little son, Master Theodore Leister, and her brother, Thos. McFarland, left Monday for Little Rock, Ark., where they will spend several weeks with relatives.

Mrs. Mary McGrath has returned home after spending several weeks with relatives in Ohio. She is the sister of the popular grocer, James A. Ross, Eighth and St. Catherine streets.

Miss Sallie Abby Byrne, the accomplished and only daughter of Frank M. Byrne, will leave Tuesday for an indefinite stay with relatives and friends in Kentucky and Tennessee.

Mrs. T. L. Byrne, Misses Lizzie Byrne, Mary Byrne, Julia Tobin, Nellie Tobin and Mollie Corcoran composed a merry party that left Monday afternoon for a trip up the Kentucky river.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Broderick had an enjoyable family reunion at their home, 422 East Ormsby avenue, in honor of the latter's sister, Mrs. R. L. Thixton, and family, who are here from Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Malone and family, who have been spending the month of August at Bay View, Mich., will not return to their home in the Highlands before the first of next month.

Capt. Dan Kane and his charming wife and Miss Laura Raffo, who have been spending the past month at the North-western lake resorts, will arrive home about September 1. They are now in Canada.

John T. Rodgers, a popular young newspaper man, and his charming wife and Miss Annie Murphy have gone to Benton Harbor, St. Joseph and Bay View, Mich., for the remainder of the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Keyer, of 1325 West Chestnut street, who have been spending the past six weeks in Europe, arrived in New York on the 18th, and after visiting friends in Washington arrived home Monday.

Rev. Father Shea, pastor of the Catholic church at Charlestown, Ind., officiated at the marriage there Tuesday morning of Henry Goedecker and Miss Frances Thameling, prominent young people of Charlestown and both well known in Jeffersonville.

Misses Mary Hackett and Rena Lee have returned home to New Albany after a pleasant visit to Terre Haute, Bedford and Greencastle, Ind. As usual the young ladies met with universal favor and several receptions were given in their honor during their visit.

One of the busiest men in the city is Bat Fueglein. He is busy morning, noon and night, but a short time ago he managed to lay aside business cares long enough to take a ten days' outing at Sweet Sulphur. He has returned home refreshed and ready for business.

Will Soden, son of Phil Soden, the well known Louisville & Nashville engineer, has accepted a good position with the railroad company at Livingston. His numerous friends in this city are elated over his appointment, though all regret his departure from Louisville.

Mr. John J. Barrett, the well known undertaker, and his daughter, Miss Virginia, returned home from Chicago Monday after a pleasant visit of two weeks spent with Mr. George Barrett, Mr. Barrett's eldest son. It will be pleasing to Mr. Barrett's friends to learn that his health continues to improve.

Miss Katie McGuire, of 206 East Main street, left last week for Worthington, where she was the life of a party of friends who were the guests of Miss Fanny Keane. The party consisted of Misses Katie McDonough, Mary Zeigebauer and Miss Emma Beck. They were chaperoned by Mrs. Margaret Beck, 604 East Gray street.

The society event of the week in Meade county was the marriage of Miss Whelan, one of the fairest young women of that section, and August Koertner, a well known and highly respected young man of the West End. The ceremony was performed Tuesday morning at St. Martin's church, near the bride's home, and was witnessed by large numbers of friends of the young couple. After leaving the church the bride and groom came to this city and are at home at 2120 West Madison street.

other speakers Messrs. William Redmond, Joseph Devlin and Alderman Joyce, M. P's. There was an extremely large attendance, nearly all the branches in the two divisions being represented.

A sad fatality occurred at Middleton, County Armagh. A mason named Terence Toner, of Clonfert, County Monaghan, was engaged working on a house at some distance outside the town, when the scaffolding and gable collapsed, as a result of which the unfortunate man was killed. Rev. Thomas M. Parland, on hearing of the occurrence, immediately rode to the scene on his bicycle and rendered all the assistance in his power.

A great sensation was caused in Ballinrobe by a report that a woman named Ellen Flannery, of Knockglass, two miles from that town, had been shot by her father-in-law, Michael Flannery. The latter has been arrested on a charge of attempted murder. It is alleged that the prisoner fired deliberately at the woman from a range of about fifteen yards, and a large number of shot lodged in her left arm. Flannery is a man of sixty years of age. The injured woman is now in Ballinrobe infirmary and is at present in a weak condition.

Developments of a rather serious character, in so far as they relate to the Irish workers, have taken place at Parnell quaries, which are situated near Arklow. Last week a number of men were discharged. The dismissals affected forty-five hands—many of whom have been connected with the works since their inception by the late Charles Stewart Parnell over twenty years ago. A strong feeling has been created among the Irish workers by what has taken place, for the fact is that it is Irishmen who have been selected for dismissal, and in no case has a foreigner—though a number of them work at the quarry—been dismissed.

On Saturday the Rev. William Dugan, received a wire that the Rev. Laurence Doyle, Athy, had died suddenly at Lisdoonvarna, where he was spending a holiday. The news created a painful sensation in the town and district. His genial manner and cheery disposition made him a universal favorite. He was beloved not only by his own parishioners, but by an extensive circle of friends and acquaintances throughout the archdiocese. The deceased was educated at Clonliffe and subsequently at Maynooth, where he was ordained about six years since. His first curacy was Moone, whence he was transferred to Athy. He was a native of Annamore, County Wicklow.

The dinner which Mr. John Redmond, M. P., recently gave to the Prime Ministers of the colonies has attracted much interest in English political circles. These Premiers are all home rulers, and made no secret of their sympathy with the Irish movement for legislative independence.

A convention of delegates from the branches of the United Irish League in County Monaghan was held at Ballybay. The Limerick resolutions were adopted, and speeches were delivered by Thomas Condon, M. P., J. MacVeagh, M. P., David Sheehy, ex-M. P., and J. M'Kean, M. P.

News has been received in Limerick of the death, which occurred on the 29th ult., at his residence, Auckland, New Zealand, of Edward Alexander, formerly of the firm of Messrs. Alexander Brothers, Limerick. Deceased, who was a member of a very old Limerick family, had been but a few days ill.

The Irish party at a meeting on July 31 passed a resolution congratulating the Pope on behalf of the twenty millions of Irish Catholics on his unparalleled length of days and the honors with which his reign has been blessed, and requesting Sir Thomas Esmonde to lay the resolution at the feet of his Holiness.

His Eminence Cardinal Moran visited Kilkenny on Sunday, and was presented with a number of addresses in the Cathedral, and replying referred to the position of Australia, pointing out that that country was a republic with the sovereign as permanent President. On the previous day his Eminence visited Thomastown, where addresses were also presented.

His Eminence Cardinal Moran, Archbishop of Sydney, visited Callan, County Kilkenny, where he was accorded a most enthusiastic welcome, and was presented with addresses signed on behalf of the clergy, Town Commissioners and people of Callan. He was also presented with an address in Gaelic from the pupils of St. Brigid's missionary school.

It is announced that Mrs. Ellen Guiltenane, of Blossom Hill, Rathkeale, County Limerick, has received intimation that she has become heirless to a property in Buffalo, U. S. A., through the death of a relative. The value of the property is estimated at several thousand pounds. Mrs. Guiltenane is the wife of a farmer and cattle dealer.

At the County Cork assizes, before the Lord Chief Justice, Robert Fitzgerald was charged with having murdered William Riddan in the village of Cullen by shooting him with a revolver. The jury found a verdict of manslaughter, and, in passing a sentence of ten years' penal servitude, the judge remarked that the prisoner owed his life to the jury.

A convention of the united Executives of the United Irish League of East and West Clare was held at the Ennis Town Hall, which was addressed by among

The local branches of the Catholic Knights of America will hold their big picnic at Phoenix Hill Park on Wednesday. This picnic was to have been held last Monday, but was necessarily postponed on account of the inclemency of the weather. Unless the weather interferes again the picnic will be a great success, as the Catholic Knights of America from all parts of the city, with their families and friends, will be in attendance. The main feature in the afternoon will be the mammoth euchre, for which handsome prizes have been offered. Messrs. Harry Veenneman, Hill, Fackler, Hub-buch, McGinn, Rapp, Reichert, Dignan and others are working day and night to make the picnic a success. There will be both concert and dance music. The bowling alleys will be in full blast. Refreshments of all kinds will be on hand and in abundance. All charitably disposed people will lend a hand toward making the undertaking a success. The object of the picnic is to create a disability fund for the benefit of aged, infirm or unemployed members of the C. K. of A., who through no fault of their own are unable to keep up their assessments. There are a number of these stricken Knights in every branch and many of the branches have for years kept up the assessments of their unfortunate members. This has proven a hardship, and a central committee of the local branches have gotten together to arrange for a permanent disability fund. It is confidently believed that this picnic will raise a substantial fund and thereby relieve the various branches in a great measure from keeping up the assessments of their unfortunate members.

The object of the picnic is to create a disability fund for the benefit of aged, infirm or unemployed members of the C. K. of A., who through no fault of their own are unable to keep up their assessments. There are a number of these stricken Knights in every branch and many of the branches have for years kept up the assessments of their unfortunate members. This has proven a hardship, and a central committee of the local branches have gotten together to arrange for a permanent disability fund. It is confidently believed that this picnic will raise a substantial fund and thereby relieve the various branches in a great measure from keeping up the assessments of their unfortunate members.

The local branches of the Catholic Knights of America will hold their big picnic at Phoenix Hill Park on Wednesday. This picnic was to have been held last Monday, but was necessarily postponed on account of the inclemency of the weather. Unless the weather interferes again the picnic will be a great success, as the Catholic Knights of America from all parts of the city, with their families and friends, will be in attendance. The main feature in the afternoon will be the mammoth euchre, for which handsome prizes have been offered. Messrs. Harry Veenneman, Hill, Fackler, Hub-buch, McGinn, Rapp, Reichert, Dignan and others are working day and night to make the picnic a success. There will be both concert and dance music. The bowling alleys will be in full blast. Refreshments of all kinds will be on hand and in abundance. All charitably disposed people will lend a hand toward making the undertaking a success. HINTS ON STYLE.

The elbow sleeve will be seen upon elaborate gowns this winter and women must reconcile themselves to extravagance in gloves.

The Japanese cloaks that have been so well liked in Paris will be seen throughout the winter and make picturesque and luxurious driving and evening wraps.

Ostrich plumes will be the hat trimming of the winter season, and it is now the mode to wear white plumes shading off at the tip into some that appear in the costume.

The turn-over collars of colored linen or of white embroidered in color have fallen from grace and very fine white collars or cravats hand-worked are the correct thing.

Byron collars have made a hit in Paris and are worn by the smartest women. In fine lawn embroidered by hand they are especially dainty, but one sees, too, the collars of stiff linen.

Lace keeps its place as a popular trimming and all-lace costumes, particularly in the black chintilly, will be worn as much as ever this winter. The combination of light and heavy laces will also last.

Green and blue, a combination which in crude hat trimmings have become an eyesore this summer, is revived in the autumn dress goods and modes, but in the most harmonious and delightful of shades and combinations. Many of the prettiest street costumes for fall and winter will be in these tones.

The surprise corsage effect is sure to be worn this winter, since the fichu and the other pompadour modes are in favor. The Louis coats, too, take more and more of a hold upon feminine fancy, and a Louis Suez coat of white silk flowered in pink carnation worn over a white chiffon skirt and having chiffon frills fluttering from inside the pink-faced cuffs, is a thing to appeal to any woman.

In all materials the loose cloak will undoubtedly have the lead and the full sleeves when not flowing will be gathered into a cuff with a broad opening and will allow for all vagaries of the gown sleeve. The cape collar is the great feature of the new coats and cloaks as of the early autumn gowns, and much of the chic of the garment will depend upon the skill with which this color is shaped and fitted.

SOUTH LOUISVILLE SHOPS.

From what appear to be reliable sources comes the good news that ground will be broken for the new Louisville & Nashville shops at South Louisville some time in September. Over two million dollars will be expended upon the work, which will require at least two years for completion. These improvements will cause a great growth in that part of the city.

HIBERNIAN BUILDING DEDICATED.

Last week the Hibernians of Nashua dedicated their new home, the O'Donnell memorial building, which is conceded to be the finest owned by any Catholic organization in New Hampshire. It is a splendid evidence of the activity and energy of the Ancient Order of Hibernians of Nashua, and also a fine tribute to the generosity of the late Rev. Father Michael Burns and his sister, Miss Mary Burns, whose generous donations in money aided and made possible the undertaking. A procession that was participated in by 3,000 men preceded the exercises, which were attended by prominent men from the State and Massachusetts. The

MACKIN COUNCIL.

Interesting and Instructive
Address by Brother
Celestine.

The rumor that Brother Celestine, of Notre Dame University, who is in the city visiting relatives, would address the President Frank Murphy.

members of Mackin Council resulted in bringing out a large attendance. Brother Celestine is none other than James Cas-sin, who for many years was a prominent
His address was both interesting and instructive and was given close attention
For his subject he took the Young Men's Institute and its moral and social features. Young men and old men were benefited by attending the meetings, and a finer school for their development would be hard to find. Members should all take part in the debates and foster the social and friendly spirit that characterized this splendid Catholic society, which has for its object better men and better citizens.

The Visiting Committee reported that Messrs. Pat Rider, Henry Gottbrath and Steve Gathof are still sick. Resolutions
thanking Englehardt & Sons, Pfaffinger & Co., Mrs. William Galway, Mrs. Edmund Coleman and Miss Bee Mullarkey for donations and valuable assistance at the basket picnic, which netted the council $218.50, were adopted.

Capt. Will Galway presented the names of five applicants, which enticed his associates, but Capt. Charles Raidy announced that his side was working hard and would soon take the lead.

Upon motion President Murphy appointed a committee of twenty to assist in receiving and entertaining delegates to the Grand Council, and Mackin will keep open house during the convention. All arrangements were reported perfected for the complimentary moonlight excursion
on Monday night, tickets for which may be had at this office.

President Murphy named Messrs. Dan
Weber, William Shaughnessy, Frank Burke, Andrew Bauria and Joseph Steltenpohl as a committee to select dates and arrange for Mackin's winter series of dances and receptions.

GOOD WORK

Being Done by Debt Paying
Society of St. Louis Bertrand's.

The Debt Paying Association of St.
Louis Bertrand's church has been making great progress, and during the nine months it has been established has collected nearly $4,000, which has been applied to liquidating the debt of $45,000
that hangs over this beautiful church.
Although between 4,000 and 5,000 persons attend the five masses at this church every Sunday the ordinary revenues are comparatively small. The Sunday collections at present average only $45 and never go over $60. The large school attached to the church has to be supported, and when all expenses are met there is nothing left to be applied to the debt. So last January the debt paying association was formed, each member of the congregation pledging himself to pay a certain sum every month—whatever his means would justify. It is hoped by Father Fowler that by the time his term expires, which will be in a year from next October, the debt will have been reduced $9,000 or $10,000.

BABY CHURCH FETE.

The first midsummer lawn fete and reception to be given by the parishioners of St. William's church, next Wednesday and Thursday evenings will be the leading event of the year in that parish.
This affair will take place on the beautiful grounds surrounding the church at Thirteenth and Wilson avenue, which are reached by the Twelfth-street car.
Refreshments will be served each evening,
and besides a choice programme of amusements has been arranged. Members of all families of the parish and throng of friends of the energetic pastor, Rev. Denis Murphy, are expected to attend from all parts of the city. The ladies of the congregation will serve an elegant luncheon, and all ticket holders will be entitled to refreshments. Admission only fifteen cents.

HENRY EILERS HOME.

Henry I. Eilers, the young son of Henry E. Eilers, the West Market street grocer, is home from Syracuse, where he spent the past two years pursuing his preparatory studies for the priesthood at the Franciscan seminary. The young cleric stood high in his classes and gives promise of taking high rank when the time comes for his ordination. From here he goes to Trenton, where he will enter upon the course of theology and philosophy.
His friends are calling in large numbers
to meet him at the home of his father.

VISITED DENVER.

Rev. Father Burke, of Paris, this State, who has been spending the summer at Colorado Springs, visited Denver friends
last week. His health seems greatly improved.

POLITICO-SOCIAL.

Irish-American Society Determines Future Policy and Elects Officers.

Enthusiasm Exhibited at Meeting When Reorganization
Was Effected.

Arranging For a Big Initiation
and Reception For September 18.

ADOPTED A MOTION TO INCORPORATE

The future policy of the Irish-American Society was settled for keeps at an enthusiastic and well attended meeting Thursday night at Hibernian Hall, and the decision will result in bringing into membership many hundreds of good men who would not join it as an insurance or sick benefit society. President John Flynn, who occupied the chair, introduced ex-President Joe Nevin, and his rousing speech had telling effect. Mr.
Nevin advocated reorganization and making the nature of the society politico-social, believing this course would be of benefit and acceptable to the greatest number. If the members only stood together they could, he said, do much for their own and the city's advancement.
He wanted to see the Irish-Americans in the lead.

Thomas Tarpey and Will Lawler gave hearty endorsement to the expressions of Mr. Nevin. They reviewed the past history of the Irish-American Society, and advocated the introduction of only such features as would not conflict with established fraternal and benevolent societies.
Then it would not be long until the membership would be increased by several hundred. Tom Claire, Dennis Minogue
and others spoke with the same view, and a motion to go into committee of the whole and adopt new laws was unanimously adopted. The revision was quickly effected, which entirely changes the work and purpose of the organization. Next it was voted to have a big initiation on Thursday night, September 18, when some of the contemplated social features will be introduced. The election of officers was then gone into with the following result:

President—John J. Flynn.
First Vice President—Joseph Nevin.
Second Vice President—D. J. Minogue.
Recording Secretary—T. D. Claire.
Financial Secretary—Thomas Walsh.
Treasurer—Thomas Keenan.
Sergeants-at-Arms—D. J. Heffernan.
Sentinel—Tim Lyons.

A motion to incorporate the society was adopted, the matter being left with the officers. The session lasted over three hours, but the results were most satisfactory to all present, who now feel that the future success of the Irish-American Society is assured.

SATOLLI COUNCIL.

A very interesting meeting of Satolli Council was held Monday night, the feature being the comprehensive report of Delegate Crotty, who attended the President William O'Sullivan.

National Federation. President O'Sullivan urged the members to be active for the entertainment of the Grand Council and to be at the club house on Sunday.
Brother Celestine, of Notre Dame, an honorary member of Satolli, was introduced and responded in a graceful manner, his remarks being listened to attentively. A committee was appointed to secure new quarters, and the final report from the hospital committee was received.

RESOLUTIONS OF CONDOLENCE.

At a meeting held by Branch 4, Catholic Knights and Ladies of America, the following resolutions of condolence on the death of Mrs. Maggie Score, the beloved wife of John J. Score, First Supreme Secretary of the C. K. and L. of A., were adopted:

Whereas, God in His goodness has been pleased to call from this life Mrs.
Maggie Score under sad circumstances, leaving a large family of little children
to mourn her loss; and,

Whereas, In life she was a devoted Christian wife and mother, and by her death her husband and children have suffered an irrevocable loss, and this branch a worthy member; therefore,
be it

Resolved, That we, the members of Branch 4, tender Brother Score and his children our deepest sympathy, and pay this tribute to her memory to honor her beautiful Christian life; and, be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Catholic Knights and Ladies of America Journal and to the Kentucky Irish American and a copy to the bereaved family, and that it be spread on the minute book of this branch.

BIG MEETING

Held by Trinity Council, Y. M.
I., and Reports
Made.

Trinity Council, Y. M. I., held a big meeting Monday night. Harry Swann, President of the Board of Grand Direct-

President Joseph Piazza.

ors, was present and made an interesting address. One application for membership was received. Dr. Beutel, Robert Goebel, Harry Kirchdorfer, Henry Her-
burger and T. J. Garvey were appointed on a committee to confer with the Ladies Auxiliary relative to giving a euchre next month. By the way, Miss Josie Donahue has been elected President of the Ladies' Auxiliary, to succeed Miss Mamie Kieley, whose second term has just expired.
The degree team reported that the new ritual would soon be ready for exemplification. The Visiting Committee reported that Messrs. John F. Oertel, Nick Bosler and Edward Everhart were still on the sick list. A special committee reported that every arrangement had been made for keeping open house for visiting delegates and members during the approaching meeting of the Grand Council. This delighted President Joseph Piazza, who will be one of the central figures during the coming convention.

FESTIVAL AT ST. BRIGID'S

Day of Joy and Pleasure For Visitors to the Highlands.

Under the auspices of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, assisted by the Young Ladies' Sodality, an ice cream festival and coffee social will be given for the benefit of St. Brigid's church on the afternoon and evening of Tuesday next, August 26, at Zehnder's Park, corner of Von Borries and Hepburn avenues, one of the most delightful spots in the Highlands. In order to make this a day of joy and pleasure for all it was decided to commence the festival at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and continue until 10 o'clock
at night.

Each ticket is good for ten cents on the festival grounds, and also entitles holder
to a chance on several handsome prizes donated by kind friends. The ladies are asked to bring the children in the afternoon, when there will be ice cream, pop corn, candies, grab bags and games for their entertainment. The gentlemen are kindly requested to come in the evening,
when there will be an abundance of light refreshments and amusements with novel features, and all are urged to unite and make this festival a grand success.

We must not forget to say that an elegant lunch will be served by the ladies from 6 to 8 o'clock. This will give the good housewives an opportunity to close their kitchens that evening and enjoy a good supper under the trees. The committees, of which there are seven, composed of Messrs. Henry Willenbrink, Charles Fedler, Jacob Oligschlafer, John Riester, Joseph Buschmeyer, John Murphy, Thomas Barrett, Harry Angermeyer, J. Welsh, Peter Bell, Joseph Baron, P. M.
O'Bryan, Lee Pfeiffer, Richard Kelly, H.
A. Goss, C. L. Klapheke, Chas. Barker,
William Barrett, Dan J. Hennessy, Florian Crush and H. Imorde, assure those who attend an agreeable time.

Messrs. Edward Kelly, Leo Goss, Geo.
Bell, John Westenhoeffer, Will Sinnott,
Joseph Bell and John Baron, the grounds committee, expect to illuminate the grounds in a manner that will eclipse anything seen here during the past great conclaves and conventions.

GOOD WOMAN DEAD.

Mrs. Mary Jane Adams, widow of the late Wesley Adams and mother of Magistrate John M. Adams, died a victim of apoplexy at Vine Grove, Ky., last Tuesday. The remains were brought to Louisville for burial. Mrs. Adams was seventy-six years of age and was a devout Catholic and a charitable woman. She leaves the following children: Magistrate John M.
Adams, Robert N. Adams, with the Stewart Dry Goods Company; Frank G.
Adams, Corresponding Secretary Mackin
Council, Y. M. I., and Miss Lizzie Adams. Her death came as a shock to her children and many friends. The old lady had been in excellent health and only a few days before her death left her home in Louisville to visit relatives at Vine Grove, where she was stricken.
The remains were brought to Louisville and taken to the family residence, 2141 Rowan street. The funeral took place from St. Cecilia's church at 9 o'clock
Thursday. The interment was in St.
Louis cemetery.

SCHOOL DAYS RETURN.

Right Rev. Bishop McCloskey has set September 8 as the date for the opening of the parochial schools of the city. This will give the children an opportunity to participate in the observance of Labor day. Presentation Academy and the Ursuline Academy will open on Monday,
September 1, as will also Loretto Academy, one of the very oldest educational institutions in the West, having been founded in 1812.
